

Dear Colleague

National Occupational Standards for Counselling

Following the recent review of the National Occupational Standards and their approval by the regulatory bodies, ENTO is delighted to invite you to a launch event.

The event will include speakers and light refreshments and an update of current ENTO projects and consultations.

A copy of the new National Occupational Standards will be available for you to take away.

We hope that you will be able to join us in Birmingham on 10th December 11.00am – 12.30pm
